Belgian mesh cable tray manufacturer direct supply

Overview

Thanks to innovation and improved technology, we have evolved into a one-stop shop for Cable Tray manufacturers.

Key Takeaways

Key Belgian manufacturers of mesh cable trays include Trayco, Vergokan, and Brilltech Engineers, offering a range of wire mesh and cable support solutions.

Notable Manufacturers

Trayco is a Belgian company specializing in the production and optimization of cable trays, mesh trays, cable ladders, and mounting systems. Founded in 2012, Trayco provides tailored solutions and advisory services for installation projects, emphasizing high-quality Belgian-made products. Vergokan is an independent Belgian company producing standard and custom cable support systems for electrical installations.

They have been active since 1982 and offer a variety of cable trays suitable for industrial and commercial applications. Brilltech Engineers supplies durable cable trays in Belgium, including perforated and mesh designs. They use premium materials such as galvanized steel, stainless steel, and fiberglass, ensuring compliance with industry standards.

Brilltech also provides installation support, system design assistance, and project consultation.

Additional Suppliers and Market Overview

Belgium hosts a growing market for wire mesh cable trays, with the sector projected to reach USD 14. 66 million by 2032, driven by demand in data centers, IT, and medium-duty indoor applications. Other Belgian companies involved in cable tray manufacturing and installation include M.

E. I., which specializes in electrical installations and cable tray implementation. For a broader selection, B2B directories like Europages list multiple Belgian suppliers of cable trays, allowing direct contact for quotes and product specifications.

European manufacturers such as Valdinox also provide mesh cable trays and technical support, though they may operate across multiple countries.

Summary

Belgium offers several reputable mesh cable tray manufacturers, including Trayco, Vergokan, and Brilltech Engineers, each providing high-quality products and installation support. The market is expanding, particularly in IT and data center applications, making Belgium a reliable source for wire mesh cable tray solutions.
