Malta Electric Display Cabinet Customization Price

Overview

An additional cost applies for deliveries beyond the stipulated limits. A furniture lifter is required for deliveries to higher floors.

Key Takeaways

The price of custom electric display cabinets in Malta varies widely depending on size, materials, design complexity, and additional features, typically requiring a direct quote from manufacturers.

Factors Affecting Price

Size and Dimensions Larger cabinets or enclosures require more materials and labor, increasing the cost. Standard sizes may be less expensive than fully custom dimensions. Materials Common materials include steel, aluminum, and tempered glass.

Steel enclosures are durable and often used for industrial applications, while glass-fronted display cabinets may cost more due to aesthetic and safety considerations. Customization Level Custom features such as internal shelving, lighting, locks, ventilation, or specialized finishes will affect the price. Fully bespoke designs are more expensive than semi-custom or standard models.

Design and Engineering Services Some manufacturers provide design support, CAD drawings, and technical consultation. These services may be included in the quote or charged separately. Delivery and Assembly Delivery within Malta and Gozo may be free above certain order values, but additional charges can apply for difficult access, higher floors, or urgent delivery schedules.

Assembly services may also incur extra costs.

How to Obtain Pricing

Request a Quote: Contact local manufacturers such as Sheet Metal Factory Malta or Hydrolectric Ltd. with your specifications to receive a tailored price estimate. Provide Detailed Requirements: Include dimensions, material preferences, intended use, and any special features to ensure an accurate quote. Compare Multiple Suppliers: Prices can vary significantly between providers, so obtaining multiple quotes is recommended.

Typical Price Range

While exact prices are not publicly listed, custom electrical enclosures in Malta can range from a few hundred euros for small, simple cabinets to several thousand euros for large, fully customized display units with advanced features. The final cost depends heavily on the factors listed above. For precise pricing, it is best to contact manufacturers directly and provide detailed specifications to receive a formal quotation.
