Overview

Aplus Trunking for Floor is a type of cable management system designed to protect and conceal cables running along the floor. It is 9cm wide, 2cm high, and comes in a 2-meter length.

Key Takeaways

Metal cable trays in Malta are available from multiple suppliers, with prices varying based on material, size, and load capacity.

Suppliers and Product Types

Brownrig Supplies Direct – Offers galvanized steel cable trays suitable for industrial and commercial installations. They provide a wide range of mechanical and electrical products and are located in Malta's harbour area, making them convenient for storage and project delivery.

FB

P Malta – Supplies cable trays and mesh trays, including perforated and ventilated designs for electrical and data cabling. These trays are designed to support long cable runs while allowing airflow to reduce heat build-up.

Big

Mat Malta – Offers cable trunking and management systems, including floor and wall-mounted enclosures. While primarily focused on trunking, they also provide accessories for cable routing and protection.

L Malta – Features a variety of cable trays for commercial and industrial use, including perforated steel trays for strong, ventilated support of electrical and data cables.

JS

K Limited Malta – Provides perforated steel cable trays with corrosion-resistant finishes, suitable for walls, ceilings, or suspended frameworks. These trays are designed for high load capacity and long-term reliability.

Factors Affecting Prices

Material: Galvanized steel, stainless steel, or aluminum trays differ in cost, with stainless steel being the most expensive due to corrosion resistance. Dimensions: Width, height, and length of the tray affect pricing; larger trays or longer sections cost more. Perforation and Ventilation: Perforated trays allow better airflow but may be slightly more expensive than solid trays.

Load Capacity: Trays designed to carry heavier cables or multiple layers of wiring are priced higher. Supplier and Delivery: Local availability, shipping, and bulk order discounts can influence the final cost.

Recommendation

For accurate pricing, it is best to contact suppliers directly, as prices fluctuate based on material, size, and quantity. Most suppliers in Malta, such as Brownrig Supplies Direct, FBP Malta, XOL Malta, and JSK Limited, can provide quotes and technical advice tailored to your project requirements.
