Key Takeaways

The price of an Original T-Connector Cable Tray typically ranges from $15 to $60 per piece, depending on material, size, and manufacturer.

Factors Affecting Price

Material: T-connectors are commonly made from galvanized steel, stainless steel, aluminum, or fiberglass-reinforced plastic (FRP). Galvanized steel is usually the most cost-effective, while stainless steel and FRP are more expensive due to corrosion resistance and durability ( ). Size and Load Capacity: Larger connectors designed for heavy-duty cable trays or high-voltage installations cost more.

Standard sizes for commercial and industrial use are priced lower than custom or high-capacity variants ( ). Coating and Finish: Zinc-coated or Sendzimir galvanized steel T-pieces have protective coatings to prevent oxidation, which can slightly increase the price ( ). Brand and Supplier: Original branded T-connectors from manufacturers like OBO or Trayco may cost more than generic or unbranded alternatives due to quality assurance, compliance with standards, and warranty ( ).
